

NACEP survey of two-year institutions

Peggy Sadler, the 2-year institution representative on the NACEP board conducted an e-mail survey of two-year colleges in Spring 2009.

The two-year institutions indicated that:

- They like the assurance of quality that comes with accreditation.
- They like networking with other CE administrators at conferences.
- They would really like to have an accreditation handbook.
- They would like to have regional conferences or meetings.
- The biggest problem they have is working with college departments.
- They are interested in having a conference session for 2-year institutions.
- They want to share information and learn how others work with college departments, professional development, accreditation and NACEP standards, grading, and academic advising.

Peggy will facilitate a best practices discussion for two-year institutions during one of the break-out sessions at the October 2009 Conference in Memphis.
